

MIDDLE EAST MINISTRY REPORT

A Journey Marked by Impact, Favor, Honor & Divine Appointment

Dear Friends and Partners,

God in Unlikely Places

It is often in the places we least expect that God reveals the greatest favor. The Middle East is a region rich in history, influence, and destiny—and it remains a place where God is writing stories through courageous believers, hidden churches, and unexpected open doors.

“I will even make a road in the wilderness and rivers in the desert.” — Isaiah 43:19

This trip became a literal and spiritual fulfillment of that promise. Even in the desert, God made a way. Even in unfamiliar territories, His favor went ahead.

It's been a remarkable week in the Middle East, and my heart is overflowing with gratitude. What God did—both seen and unseen—reminded me again that when He sends you, He surrounds you with supernatural favor and strategic relationships.

From the moment my feet touched the ground, I sensed that I had stepped into purpose. The vast beauty of the desert, the rich culture, and the overwhelming hospitality of the people created an unforgettable tapestry of encounters orchestrated by God.

One of the most humbling honors of this assignment was being welcomed as a guest at a presidential palace—a moment of great significance and an undeniable confirmation that God opens doors no man can shut. Favor took me places I could never have arranged on my own.

Throughout the week, I met extraordinary people, listened to their stories, and built meaningful relationships. Every conversation felt intentional. Every gathering carried purpose. And everywhere I went, I saw the hunger of hearts longing for encouragement, hope, and spiritual strength.

This trip reminded me that even in unfamiliar places, purpose finds you... and light shines brightest where people are hungry for hope.

The Assignment & Impact

The Middle East is a region full of complexity and beauty—a place where the Gospel must often move quietly, strategically, and through divinely orchestrated relationships.

During this trip, I had the privilege:

- to serve precious individuals and families,
- to offer encouragement and counsel,
- to strengthen believers who are shining as lights in places of great need,
- to forge meaningful connections that will open future Kingdom opportunities.

Every step carried weight. Every moment felt God-orchestrated. And every encounter reflected His heart for these nations.

Desert Encounter

A powerful moment in the heart of the desert—reminding me that God meets us in dry places and refreshes us in unfamiliar landscapes.

City Moments

In the vibrant streets and quiet corners of the region, meaningful conversations and divine appointments unfolded beautifully.

Presidential Palace Reception

It was an extraordinary honor to be received as a guest at a presidential palace—an unmistakable sign of God's favor and open doors of influence.

Experiencing the heart, hospitality, and heritage of the Middle East made this mission deeply impactful.

Miracle Moments & Testimonies

While the nature of ministry in this region requires wisdom and discretion, I witnessed:

- hearts touched by prophetic encouragement,
- individuals strengthened in their walk with God,
- divine confirmations and supernatural appointments,
- renewed faith among believers who face unique challenges,
- and moments where God's presence ministered deeply, quietly, supernaturally.

In a land where public ministry is restricted, God moved in whispers—but with thunderous impact.

"So the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea on the dry ground, and the waters were a wall to them on their right hand and on their left.

Exodus 14:22

The Middle East holds a spiritual depth unmatched anywhere in the world. Its sands have witnessed the footsteps of prophets, kings, and patriarchs. Today, beneath modern skylines and historic landscapes, God is still at work—drawing hearts, strengthening believers, and opening unprecedented doors.

The warmth, respect, and generosity of the people left a lasting imprint on my heart. Their hospitality reflects the heart of God. Their resilience reflects the strength of the Spirit.

Leadership & Strategic Impact

This trip was not merely inspirational—it was foundational.

It paved the way for expanding:

- underground church support,
- leadership development,
- private mentorship,
- and regional prayer networks.

Connections were established that will shape our future ministry in the region. Doors were opened that require wisdom, honor, and strategic follow-through.

Middle East Vision: What God Is Opening

Our outreach in the Middle East has been highly successful and God is opening great doors of favor to advance the Kingdom in this strategic region.

We now have significant opportunities to:

- strengthen underground churches,
- support emerging leaders,
- expand discipleship,
- empower believers living in restricted environments,
- and offer pastoral care and spiritual guidance.

Because of security sensitivities, we cannot publicly name specific countries or locations. But know this, God is positioning us to make a measurable spiritual impact in places where the Gospel shines brightest in secrecy.
